Poetry.

DON'T SLOP OVER.

"Don't slop over," the old man said,
As he placed his hand on the young man's head
"Go it by all means, go it fast,
Go it while leather and horse shoes last;
Go it while hide and hair on horse
Will hold together. O, go it, of course—
Go it as fast as ever you can,
But don't slop over my dear young man.

"Don't slop over. You'll find some day
That keeping an eye to windward will pay.
A horse may run a little too long,
A preacher preach just a fraction too strong,
And a poet who pleases the world with rhymes
May write and regret it in after times;
Keep the end of your effort in view,
An I don't slop over, whatever you do.

"Don't slop over The wisest men
Are bound to slop over now and then;
And yet the wisest at work or feast
Are the very ones that blunder the least.
Those who for sylit milk never wail
Are the ones who carry the steadiest pail.
Wherever you go go in for the fat;
But don't slop over—and freeze to that.

"Don't slop over. Great Solomon
Once went a little too far with his fun.
Louis Napoleon, as we know,
Slopped over on Max in Mexico.
Horace Greeley and Jefferson D.'
And Hinton Helper and old J. B.'
And Andrew Johnson, the great'i wont,'
All slopped over—take care you don't.

"Don't slop over, distrust yourself,
Nor always reach to the highest shelf,
The next to the highest will generally do,
And answer the need of such as you,
Climb, of course, but always stop
And take breath this side of the top:
And so you will reach it in wind, and strong,
Without slopping over. Thus ends my song."

PRISON LIFE.

BY A PRISONER.

There are three days most noted in a Soldier's life, the day of battle, pay day, and the day on which he musters for pay. The day after our arrival at Bunker Hill being the last of the month, the troops were mustered. No advance was made. May 1st, in accordance with a time honored custom, people everywhere move on this day. We therefore moved. On our way we passed the battle ground of June 15th, 1863. Gen. Milroy's forces, when retreating after two days fighting with Buell's corps, were here attacked at daylight by a body of rebels concealed and fortified in a wood, and were scattered in every direction. As we passed along we thought, our time will come next.

We marched through Winchester with flags streaming and drums beating, but the whites only looked down from their windows upon us with scowling faces, forgetful of the time when we drove the rebels out of the town, and they came and begged for even crackers to eat. In pleasing contrast to these were the smiling faces of the negroes, who, as it was Sunday, were dressed in their gayest clothing, and as we passed them, showered down blessings on our heads. It is strange, that with all their ignorance, they knew enough to welcome Union soldiers. We halted two miles south of town on the ground where the battle between Milroy and Buell began, and where I first heard the ping of a rebel bullet. Here we remained eight days, which time was spent in drilling and picquet duty. I went over the old battle ground, and helped to bury some of our regiment who were killed and hastily interred. The groves of many rebel soldiers proved our men had fought well. But I suppose all traces of those groves are now obliterated. No doubt the spirit of avarice has desecrated the resting places of those brave men, and the plough-share turned up the soil above them. But they will all awake together. Let us revere their memories.

"Under the sod and the dew, waiting the judgment day;
Under the laurel the Blue, under the willow the Grey."

While here we learned that Grant had crossed the Rapidan, and was moving "on to Richmond." We knew something was to be done, and that hard work lay before us. On Mondays the 9th, of May, we again set out to march. The troops were in fine spirits. I remember a captain of Gen. Sullivan's staff, formerly Lieutenant in our company, riding past us so gaily. He was killed at Cedar Creek.

At noon we arrived at Cedar Creek, since made famous by Sheridan's victory, and the "Ride" made immortal in verse by the poet Read. The bridge at this place was burned, and we were delayed a day. Then we marched to Woodstock, 15 miles. We passed Fisher's hill, that every soldier of the valley will remember.

The valley grows narrower as we go southward, and here the mountains are plainly seen on both sides. The land is not so level nor so rich as at the mouth, but it is the most beautiful country my eyes ever beheld. I am glad to know that since the war this country is being settled by Pennsylvania farmers. Under their honest, industrious hands, the once Slavery-cursed valley will soon become a paradise of freedom.

In the meantime the circle of three was faring sumptuously on the products of the land. We now began to speculate about the campaign. It was seen that we were moving up the valley in order to threaten Lynchburg and the railroad, and thus draw away a part of Lee's forces from Richmond. An army under Gen. Crook was moving up the Kanawha valley for the same purpose. But it was a dangerous position for us. Lee could at any time send a force through the gaps in the mountain behind us, and force us to retreat down the Kanawha, leaving Baltimore and Washington uncovered. And nearly this same result occured when Hunter made his raid on Lynchburg. But the utmost confidence was placed in Grant. We felt sure, too, that our beloved Lincoln would be re-elected by an overwhelming majority. One thing was certain, the soldiers would vote for him. In our company but one man was for McClellan, and he could neither read nor write. I afterwards found that the rebel soldiers were a unit in favor of "the great commander."

Early on the morning of the 13th, our Reg't. set out on its way southward. Some cavalry had gone in advance of us. We marched seven miles and halted. Here a slight skirmish had occured the day before, and it was reported that Harry Gilmore was wounded in the back. This, I believe was not true. In the evening it commenced to rain, and kept on during the whole night. In the morning we marched back to our former camp at Woodstock. At evening the booming of cannon was heard. Imboden was at New Market, twenty miles up the valley. The 1st, New York cavalry had gone up the Suray valley beyond the mountains on our left, to get in his rear. As a result, they were surprised and nearly all captured.

[In my former article, the sentence, "Our Regt. had not marched much," should have been, "One Regt. &c."]

For the REPUBLICAN.

FROM CARMICHAELS.

MR. EDITOR:—By the perusal of some of your recent articles on the improvement of our county seat, my thoughts have been led in the same direction, not only in reference to Waynesburg, but, also, the rest of the county. It is a pleasure to know that the spirit of improvement is abroad, even if the blame must rest upon the Radical or progressive party for disturbing the placid waters of indifference and neglect which we have hitherto floated on to our own disadvantage. The time, we hope, has come when many of our old fogyish notions are to be thoroughly aired and ventilated. Associations in every sphere of life have a tendency, largely, to mould and develop character. Therefore, many persons can readily grasp an idea with the eye that to their ear is incomprehensible. We say that there is much of duty in the idea that our county seat should be made the home of learning, the model of good taste, and the firm patron of refinement, so that every man, woman and child who visit the county seat shall carry home with them some idea of refined taste and good breeding rather than a load of bad whiskey, bad manners and worse morals. Much good might be done in this way at our county seat; but is it necessary for all other parts of the county to await the sluggish motions of the county seat to set an example? By no means! Then why may not the East end lead off? Her citizens of wealth at this age of the world should not be so parsimonious as to begrudge the small pittance of a few hundred dollars for some public benefit, say a Town Hall, which is very much needed in Carmichaels. But if there is not enough of public spirit in us to use our money at home for a small and sure interest, instead of sending it West, and losing both principal and interest, let us at least have some of the necessities attended to. Now, Carmichaels is situated in one of the fairest portions of God's green earth. Then why not expend enough of common sense to make it conform to the harmony of nature? The land, naturally, just rolling enough to drain well, is so disfigured by improvement that a stranger in passing along the side-walk on a dark night, would have to exercise almost as much care as though he were clambering over the Rocky Mountains, for in stepping high like a blind horse, to avoid curb-stones, steps and offsets, down comes his foot in a puddle of water, and spirt goes the mud and water in his face, eyes and mouth, and if he is not a very pious man, out comes the filth with a curse on men who are so indifferent to the requirements of common decency. He goes to his stopping place with soiled clothes, riled feelings and his good opinion of the place and people materially lessened, and if ever he speaks of the town it will be with a "but" or an "if" or some mental reservation, or perhaps compare its citizens to the hog in the parlor. Come, citizens, council, or officers, why not have these things attended to at once, the openings in the pavements filled up, and the crossings of the streets made so that ladies can go out without a ferry boat, or without wading over boot-top (and army boots at that) deep in mud, or being compelled to go to church with their skirts under their arms, to appear decent when in the house of God? Those improvements all go to make strangers desire to come among us, and to make us think all the better of ourselves. We cannot associate with good society without becoming better. We cannot be surrounded with refinement without becoming more refined. Nor can we go very far in mud and filth without becoming muddy, filthy and losing a portion of our self-respect. Hence, we so often see crime, debauchery, misery, ignorance and filth as boon companions, stalking the earth with brazen face and stolid men as though they owned the soil, and virtue, self-respect, intelligence and refinement were only intruders. G. W. D.

A SCHOOLBOY being asked to define the word "admission," said it meant twenty-five cents. "Twenty-five cents!" echoed the schoolmaster. "What sort of definition do you call that?" "I don't know," sulkily replied the boy, "but I'm sure it says so in the advertisement down there at the show." "Yes," said another boy, "and children half price."

WHY is a rifleman in ill health like a revolver? Because he is a sick-shooter.

Carrier's Address to the Patrons of "The Waynesburg Republican."

ADDRESS.

KIND PATRONS: I rise to address you
And first, by way of a prologue, God bless you
May health and wealth, may peace and pleasure
Rich and rare and without measure,
Fill every heart with joys abundant,
Till joy itself becomes redundant,
Till sixty eight with pleasures even
Shall far exceed old sixty seven.

PATRONS: Now and here, in this time and place,
Committee of the whole, on the human race.
What has been done and yet remains to do
To elevate mankind and give it broader view?
What nation born? what progress in the right?
What moral revolution has broke upon the sight?
Has civil war in China already run its course?
Have Pagan crimes in India been overcome by force?
Does Turbaned Turk still war with classic Greece?
Has she abolished slavery or instituted peace?
If she has not the writing on the wall
Proclaims, henceforth there is no Turk at all.
Has noble "Gari," or the fiat of the Fates,
Made Rome the capital of the Italian States?
Or, has Napoleon, a dark, designing man,
Sent in his minions and overthrown the plan?
Traitor to God, his country and the laws,
Thus to desert the right and help the devil's cause.
Bismark has won imperishable renown
By adding state to state and adding town to town.
Till many scattered hamlets and far disjointed lands
Came at his word, and as with iron bands
He bound them all in one. A nation born.
Fenians, learn that all mankind are brothers;
Claim this yourselves—concede it unto others;
Think and act upon this rule and find
You have the help and hopes of all mankind.
"In hoc signo vincimus!" and so be strong,
God will support the right and overthrow the wrong.
England, long the mistress of the seas,
Patron of all arts that adorn and please;
Though she supplied money, guns and ball,
We met—we fought and conquered both and all!
And when heroic Grant the rebel hosts o'erthrew
Copperheads looked black and Johnny Bull looked blue.
Little thought he, the brood he sent to fright
Would soon return, and roost at home at night.
When Cromwell reigned, England's fame arose;
Was loved by friends and dreaded by her foes,
But she now lies so low, and is so mean, and base
That sharers in her friendship are partners in disgrace.
And henceforth too, and from that fatal hour,
England ranks, a sordid, third-rate power.

But let me turn your thoughts to other climes
Where dwell a people in these latter times
Whose lands extend from Cancer to the pole;
Against its shores two ocean's surges roll,
Blest with a climate of perpetual spring,
Flowers of richest hues and birds of every wing,
With spreading prairies and with misty mountains,
With noble rivers and with silver fountains.
But a single blot, a death spot on the face
Of this fair land a dark and deep disgrace.
Slavery, the dread incubus, grew and spread
'Till many thought the rights of man were dead,
But in an evil hour it reached its gory hand
To spread its pall o'er all this glorious land,
The web too frail, the tissue would not hold,
Though that was wrought of sinews, this was wrought of gold
The Dagon monster fell, wiped out the nation's blot,
Itself and its defenders are both alike forgot.
Forgotten! no! Their names shall have a place
In catalogues of crime and records of disgrace.
Farotherwise with those who battle for the right
Theirs shall shine forth in floods of living light.
There, first, and highest on the scroll of fame
Stands one bright, peerless and immortal name,
ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
With hosts of others, loyal, brave and true
No better men no country ever knew.
Though these true men are dead, some still survive
To keep the flame of Liberty alive
Our grand and noble Congress, a brave, heroic band
Stands like a wall of fire around our happy land.
Our fervent prayer is, long may it wave
O'er lands of the free and homes of the brave.

But I must stop. I have no more to say,
And bid you all a HAPPY NEW YEARS DAY.

"THE CARRIER."

AMALGAMATION—SOCIAL EQUALITY.

The Rev. Mr. Butler, a colored preacher, addressed the Kentucky Colored Convention, a few days ago, in these words:

"The future of this country depends not so much on what party is in power, as it does on the removal of all disabilities; they weigh down its people. Then and not until then, will the country have peace. We don't ask for social equality. I never saw the white woman yet that looked so well, in my eyes, as a good brown colored woman. And if it wasn't so we don't need their social equality, because our friends the white folks, have kindly managed it so that we have every shade to choose from, the deepest jet black to the purest white. [Laughter.] And as there are no ladies present, allow me to say that the practice of social equality has not been on our side, but on the part of the whites, who in their dark and devious ways, were not always able, let us charitably suppose, to tell them from white. This social equality has not been sought by us but they have run after us; and we are now emancipated and free, they haven't stopped.

A voice—"We'll stop it when we get the testimony."

Yes, that's so. They had better not come my way, even now. We say to them, let us alone; we don't want any mixture. If they had left me alone I might have known what color I was; but as it is, my greatest trouble is to keep my hair just right. Don't talk about social equality. If I was a white man in Kentucky I would hide my head; I wouldn't mention it with so many evidences standing around my social equality. We don't want any more of it. Keep on your side of the line and we'll keep on our side and in the course of time we'll get back where God left us."

There is more fact and sense in these brief paragraphs than in all the declamations of Democratic orators and newspapers, touching this subject.

According to the census of 1860 there were 582,782 mulattoes in the United States; of these 410,557 were slaves. Of 172, 125 who were free by far the larger part had probably obtained freedom in consideration of the fact that their fathers were white.

Most of this amalgamation was not voluntary on the part of the blacks. It was coerced in consequence of ownership. Nor was much of it sheltered by the sanctity of marriage. A few of the white amalgamators like Col. Richard M. Johnson, whom the Democra's elected Vice President, made a wife of the black woman whom he selected to be the mother of his children. But this was a rare instance. The most of these nearly six hundred thousand mulattoes were of illegitimate parentage and this without the consent of their mothers, in any proper acceptation of the meaning of that word consent. This is not out of the ordinary course of events. Give any man, or any set of men, arbitrary power over their fellowmen, and it will certainly result in tyranny. Alexander of Russia was once complimented by being styled a faithful guardian of his subjects. He quickly replied that if he had really earned that distinction his subjects ought to congratulate themselves on the existence of a fortunate accident. Such rulers did not often happen under succession by prescriptive right. Extending this thought farther, it may with equal cogency, be affirmed that no set of men ever had by law and social usage full and undisputed control of the persons of hundreds or thousands of women, but they abused their power to gratify their lusts; and it has mattered little or nothing what the color of the women has chanced to be.

We have shown that the greater part of this amalgamation was in the Southern States, where the slave-owners and their sycophants were supreme. So far as those States are concerned the Republicans can prove an alibi. They were not there. The Democrats and Conservatives presented such potent inducements that all men of Republican proclivities found it expedient to keep North of the Mason and Dixon's line. If they ventured beyond, Vigilance Committees equipped with hempen ropes and tar and feathers were certain to be much too earnest in their attentions to render a stay agreeable or safe. It must be admitted, therefore, that the Republicans, if not absolutely, are comparatively exempt from participation in this matter.

But we cannot help directing attention to another point. While there were 416,657 mulattoes in the Southern States, there were according to the returns of the elections, 434,826 men who voted Democratic tickets. Now we do not insist that either of the aggregates fully explains the other; but, considering all these circumstances, do what we will, the two will come into juxta-position. Nor is this aspect modified but rather placed in stronger relief, when the facts as to individual States are considered. For instance, in Virginia there were 79,776 mulattoes and 72,413 Democrats; and in Mississippi 20,365 mulattoes and 26,876 Democrats. Proportions so uniform would seem to have a definite relationship, and that not altogether recondite, to each other.

We commend, therefore, all northern Democrats and conservatives, who are afraid if black men are allowed to vote they will themselves be obliged to marry black women or at least to have mulatto children by such, to the consoling instructions of our black preacher.—Pitts. Gazette.

Brutal Murder of a Negro at Hampton—The Murderer attacked by a Mob.

FORTRESS MONROE, Dec, 25, 1867.—About one o'clock this afternoon, Thomas Lattimer, Deputy Sheriff of Elizabeth City County, who resides in Hampton, had some difficulty with a colored boy, some 10 or 12 years old, and a colored man came along and took the boy's part. Lattimer was considerably under the influence of liquor at the time, and, after abusing the negro a few minutes, deliberately pulled out a revolver and shot him through the head. His wounds were dressed by Dr. McLaughlin, and, although he still lives, but little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

As soon as Lattimer shot the negro he went into the house and locked himself in. The news among the freedmen spread rapidly, and soon a crowd of them began to assemble about Lattimer's house. Some of the citizens fearing a riot endeavored to quell the the excitement, but seemingly to no purpose. The riot act was then read but before it was finished stones were hurled through the windows, and a rush was made for Lattimer's house He endeavored to escape by jumping through a window, but was met by the mob and beaten almost to death. He was saved by the interference of two or three colored men, who carried him through the crowd to the jail.

The riot lasted half an hour. Guns, pistols, and stones were used freely, and several persons, non-combatants, were injured. Dr. Hope is reported to have been shot while dressing the wounds of a colored man, but his wound is not serious. As soon as the riot commenced a messenger was dispatched to the military post, about a mile distant and a guard was at once sent to quell the disturbance.

Popular Fallacies.

That you can receive $1 a day spend two and get rich.

WHEN Aaron Burr returned to New York city to practice law, after his voluntary exile in Europe, he found the late Rev. Jedediah Burchard, then a celebrated revivalist, holding a series of protracted meetings in his family church. He attended from habit, always went late, disturbed the services by attracting the attention of the audience on account of his notoriety as the man who shot Alexander Hamilton, and who had been tried for treason. Mr. Burchard resolved to rebuke him openly. The next Sabbath when he came in and got about half way up the aisle, the clergyman pause in his discourse, and pointing to Col. Burr, said in the most scathing manner. "You hoary-headed old sinner, I'll appear against you at the day of judgement!" The proud, defiant old man, standing erect as ever, with that perfect composure which never deserted him, and fixing his fine gray eyes on the occupant of the pulpit replied: "Mr. Burchard I have observed through a long course of professional experience, that the very meanest class of criminals are those who turn State's evidence!"

AS OUR MOTHERS DO.—An exchange says: "We were considerably amused the other evening at three little girls playing among the sage bush in a back yard. Two of them were "making believe keep house, a few yards distant from each other—neighbore as it were." One of them says to the third little girl, "There, now, Nelly, you go to Sarah's house, and stop a little while and talk, and, then you come back and tell me what she says about me; and then I'll talk about her, and then you go and tell her all I say, and then we'll get mad and won't speak to each other just like our mothers do, you know. Oh! that'll be such fun!"

JUDGE RICHARD BUSTEED, of the United States Court of Alabama, was shot in Mobile Saturday by District Attorney L. V. B. Martin, receiving two severe wounds, neither of which is yet known to be mortal. Martin was under indictment in Busteed's court for alleged revenue frauds and extortion, and the difficulty grew out of this fact. Busteed formerly resided in New York city. Martin was arrested.

The Waynesburg Republican.

WAYNESBURG, PENN'A.

Wednesday, Jan. 8, '68.

ISSUES OF 1868.

Hon. O. P. Morton, of Indiana, at Washington on the 31st ult., in the course of a powerful address on the present political status and the wants of the day, said:

The struggle, therefore, on the part of the Democratic party, North and South, as I have spoken will be in 1868, for the restoration of these States into rebel hands and the administration of the affairs of the States on that basis.

If you are prepared to say that blacks and loyal white men are to be turned over to the rebels, then vote the Democratic ticket. But if you are in favor of impartial suffrage, and giving rights to black and white, then vote the Republican ticket.

There are numerous other questions wrapt up in these leading ideas I have announced. The first one I shall mention is the payment for slaves emancipated during the war. And though this has not been declared as yet to be a question of the issue, I am as firmly convinced it is to be as though I read it in the written platform of the Democratic party.

The States of Maryland and Kentucky have already provided for this, in anticipation of the success of the Democratic party at their next election. [Here Mr. Morton read from the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and from a report of the proceedings of the Kentucky State Legislature, to substantiate the statement made.]

Georgia has also provided for this; and although other Southern States may be silent on this subject, they will be ready to meet the question when it is time.

The Democratic party of the South will be a unit on the question; and now let me show that the Democratic party of the North are ready to meet them. I base my assertion on the fact that the members of this party voted without a single exception against the amendments when they were before Congress, and Democratic newspapers have denounced those amendments with one voice; so it is safe to say that in the issue the Northern wing will concede to the South everything claimed by them, and if they do not, their action will be very different from what it has been in years past; for I never knew of a demand made by the South that was not readily conceded by the Northern portion of that party. Should the Democratic party come into power, the payment for the slaves emancipated may be considered a settled fact.

You remember when the question was up in Congress to abolish slavery in 1862, and again in 1864, the Democratic members in both Houses were then united in favor of paying for every slave emancipated, and it was denounced as morally wrong to take a slave even from a rebel, and not fairly compensate the owner for the loss; and I say again, this question is inevitably involved in the general issues of 1868.

Another question is involved, that will follow just as certain, and that is the assumption and payment of the rebel war debt. I ask you as reasoning and thinking men when the Representatives of the South are admitted to Congress, and are called upon to vote upon appropriation bills, do you think they would vote to tax themselves for our debt and not provide for their own?

The Northern States staked their financial power in the Government bonds, and the South risked all she had in the prosecution of the war, and lost all; and you may expect in the advent of the Democratic party into power, that provision will be made for the payment of that debt; but I am glad to say that not until then will it be thought of.

The Democratic party were opposed to our debt being contracted in its incipiency, and you may remember that a prominent member of that party warned the people not to buy the bonds, as they would prove worthless on their hands. They were hostile then to the debt, as the Southern wing of the Democratic party are now to being compelled to help pay it. So that the demand on their part to tax the people for the payment of the debt of the South will be as surely conceded as the demand is made.

I come to another issue that is also involved in the contest; the pensioning of rebel soldiers, and the widows and orphans of those who fell fighting for the rebellion. Does not the present state of affairs in Maryland indicate the feeling which prevails against the soldiers who were members of regiments in the Union army? Can a Union soldier be be elected to any office? Is he not proscribed in business and society? Look if Union men, who are lawyers or physicians, find any success in the practice of their profession? Are they not proscribed on account of their sentiments? Does not the same condition of affairs exist in Kentucky? I see here to-night a gentleman who can tell you about that much better than I who knows from experience and observation what the feeling is there. Rebels, and rebels only are elected to office. The presence of Union men is no where tolerated, but their position is made uncomfortable and if possible to rid the State of their presence.

Sir, if you give the power of reconstion into the hands of rebels, you may expect the same condition of affairs in all the Southern States. And you may ask what do I argue from all this. I will tell you. When the Democratic party gets into power, do you suppose the representatives from the South will vote for pensioning the soldiers and widows of the North, and not provide for their own in the South? Is it human nature, I ask, for men to do such things? And when you bring them power, their rebel soldiers will as surely be placed on the same footing with the Union soldiers of the North. This question, then, I say, is involved in the issues of the comist campaign.

The point I make here to-night is the inevitable consequence of the Democratic party coming into power. Some men may like the policy of the party and vote for it solely on that account but let them remember that they are voting to elevate the rebel soldiers to the same position as those who fought to preserve the Union.

The great questions of the campaign in 1868 are, then, I repeat, the maintenance of this Government, the justice of the war, or the right of the rebellion. And these are the questions which are to be decided: 1868 is to determine whether this Government is to remain in the hands of the Union men or to be allowed to pass into the hands of Southern men.

At the beginning of this New Year we have nothing especial to record in the history of our country. Europe has had its war tremors and the severe shake at Sadowa made Austria a confirmed cripple. France dealt the brave Garibaldi a foul stroke, crushing the life out of Italian liberty for years to come. Turk and Greek are yet locked in deadly embrace, nearly all have experienced the gripe of armed contention in the Old World, and south of us on our own continent the din of battle has hardly ceased. Marked by distrust and doubt alone the Old Year with us dragged its slow length along, and it is a relief to bury it with the dead Past. Contrasted with former years, perhaps, a superficial glance would not discover wherein it materially differed. Commerce and trade seem active, enterprise has discovered new fields, stupendous works have been forwarded and completed, all the same as heretofore, with a considerable stride in the world of art and science. But, for all this there has been an under-current that retarded greatly the social, financial and political tide that should have swept us to a higher place beyond the reach of disturbing elements. Six years of civil strife left huge gaps in the structure that bound the sections together, which the present generation will hardly see rebuilt with former solidity. Unfortunately for the South and the country at large, the duplicity of the Chief Executive and the designing motives of a crushed power in a party that for some inscrutable purpose has been allowed to raise its blood crested head, by a strange fascination permit themselves to be used as willing instruments for their own torture. They have taught them to appeal to the power that opposed the war for redress in their imaginary wrongs, an irrelevant and delusive idea existing that the American people intend to yet abandon the country to treason's demand. When once this phantasm is banished from their minds, as it will be in the coming October, we shall have a revival in business and a better feeling in society. Know, then, that here lies the remedy. Gird yourselves anew for the contest and with the same leader that led our batallions in blue to victory we will move upon the enemy to conquer. The cheers of willingness have gone up from every part of the line from Maine to California and time and signal are only wanting for the mighty host to achieve another victory scarcely less important than that which passed the rebellion into history.

HOLIDAYS.

For many years there has not been a season such as that just passed, tempered with a degree of dullness equal to the last. Shop-keepers and grocery men did not do the lively business they were wont to, and Santa Claus consequently betrayed a woful parsimoniousness. In our belief the people are becoming economical and not so enthusiastic as formerly over glittering displays, pure or tinsel. Hereaway, nothing marked the anniversaries but the snapping of Chinese crackers and the early din of the calithumpians. Fox hunting was the rural sport. New Years day was made the occasion of a pleasant time at the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches. A handsome treat was given the Sunday Schools of each Church, in the shape of bon-bons, fruits and substantial eatables.

The Legislature convened on the 7th inst. A Free Railroad Law is the only important measure before that body at present. They are pledged to give the State the benefit of this measure, and its early passage is demanded. They who vote against it will commit political suicide and deservedly be consigned to oblivion.

Anson Burlingame, American Minister in China, has been appointed by that empire as their embassador to the treaty-making powers of Europe. It is considered a high compliment to our nation, and will greatly advance our commercial interests in the Celestial domain.

GREENE COUNTY TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

The Institute met, agreeably to previus notice, in the Union School building Dec. 31st, 1867, at 1½ o'clock P. M., was called to order by Prof. T. J. Teal, Co. Supt., who is, ex officio, the presiding officer. A Scriptural extract was read and prayer offered by Dr. A. B. Miller, after which the organization was completed. Prof. F. H. Crago, of Carmichæls, was chosen Rec. Sec., Miss Jennie Wiley, of Carmichæls, Enrolling Sec., J. F. Gwynn, of Cumb. tp., Door Clerk, Messrs J. Jackson Purman. Geo. W. Hoskinson and W. F. Orr, Reporting Committee. Teachers present were then enrolled, 65 responded. S. S. Jack, State Lecturer, delivered a lecture on Othography. An executive committee of four was appointed to aid the Superintendent in his duties.

Evening Session.—Re-assembled at 6½ o'clock. Prof. J. C. Gilchrist, Supt. of Washington Co., delivered an address, subject—Reform. A discourse by Dr. A. B. Miller, subject—Care of the School Room. Both interesting and instructive.

Wednesday A. M.—Opened with prayer. A committee on resolutions was appointed viz., Messrs W. M. Nickerson, J. C. Kendall and Miss Clara Hedge. S. S. Jack continued his lecture on Othography. Prof. Gilchrist talked on Grammar and queries were asked by different teachers Prof. A. Stevens, of Pittsburgh, spoke for 25 minutes on Penmanship. After questions and criticism adjourned. 78 teachers enrolled.

P. M.—Met in the College Chapel at the regular hour. Prof. Moore, of Fayette Co., lectured a short time on Reading. S. S. Jack continued his discourse on Othography and Primary Reading. W. N. Hull, of Washington Co., read a select piece. Mr. Stevens again spoke on Penmanship. Queries were discussed 20 minutes with spirit. S. S. Jack read "The Old Arm Chair," with effect. Arithmetic was discussed by S. S. Jack. Adjourned.

Evening.— Lecture on school discipline, select reading, music, etc. Adjourned.

Thursday A.M.—Met at 8½ o'clock. Practical remarks on various subjects pertaining to the Teacher, miscellaneously discussed. S. S. Jack consumed a half hour on teaching Elementary Geography. Dr. Miller discoursed of Mathematical Geography and Prof. Gilchrist of the Metric System. Adjourned.

P. M.—The following teachers were selected as a committee on Permanent Certificates: F. H. Crage, W. N. Nickerson, S. H. Headlee, J. Jackson Purman, J. A. Gordon. The topic of Reading was again spoken of by S. S. Jack. Prof. J. C. Gilchrist delivered a lecture on Grammar. Questions were asked. Adjourned.

Evening.—92 teachers enrolled. Addressed by S. S. Jack, subject—Elements of Success. Select Reading by Mrs. Wm. Parkinson, and by W. N. Hull. Adjourned to the Societies, halls, where the members of the Institute enjoyed themselves for two or three hours in social talk and promenade.

Friday A. M.— Met at the usual hour. Talk on various subjects. S. S. Jack lectured on Geography, Prof. A. Stevens on Penmanship, Dr. Miller on Mathematical Geography, S. S. Jack on Arithmetic Method of Teaching Primary Classes, etc. Usual Queries. and answers. Adjourned.

P.M.—S. S. Jack addressed the Institute on Phonetics, Prof. Gilchrist on Object Teaching. Queries. F. H. Crago read a select. Adjourned.

Evening—The Institute was addressed by Prof. Gilchrist, subject—Educationtional Conditions. Was tendered a vote of thanks. Adjourned.

Saturday P. M.—Queries were discussed by many teachers. The roll was called and answered by sentiment. The following resolutions were then read and adopted.

Resolved, That we recognize the Teachers Institute as a most efficient means of elevating the standard of qualifications of Teachers, both in regard to scholarship and modes of instruction, and therefore well calculated to promote the highest interests of the schools in our county.

Resolved, That although, the attendance far exceeds our most sanguine expectations, and leaves no doubt as to the future popularity and success of such Institutes, yet we regret that so many of our teachers have failed to avail themselves of this opportunity of valuable instruction and pleasant association with their fellow teachers.

Resolved, That the highest perfection of man's nature is a sound mind in a sound body, and as the structure of the body and the laws of health receive almost no attention in the present course of common-school instruction, the study of Physiology and Hygiene should be introduced into all our schools.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the gentlemen who explained their respective systems of Penmanship, and we deprecate the lack of interest in this essential branch of education on the part of School Directors and Teachers.

Resolved, That we tender to Profs. S. S. Jack and J. C. Gilchrist our sincere thanks for their presence in our Institute and their valuable instruction and suggestions upon the methods of teaching the various branches.

Resolved, That a vote of thanks is due the Professors of Waynesburg College for the use of the chapel, and the important services rendered by them.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute are due to Miss Lucy V. Ingham, teacher of Music and other ladies of Waynesburg, who enlivened the proceedings with appropriate music.

Resolved, The lady of the committee on Resolutions, in behalf of the lady Teachers, returns a vote of thanks to those ladies of the town whose hospitality they have enjoyed while attending the Institute.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Institute be tendered to the publishers of the "Republican" and "Messenger" for their friendly notices of this meeting, and that they be respectfully requested to publish an abstract of the proceedings.

The Institute just closed was an entire success, being well attended, and great interest and enthusiasm manifested throughout its whole session.

CURRENT NOTES.

Gen'l. Hartranft is spoken of as a candidate for re-election to the office of Auditor General of the State.

The anniversary of emancipation was celebrated at various places in the South, the colored societies parading, &c.

It is stated that the west front of the Senate wing of the capital building at Washington has settled four inches.

Doctor Gihon, of Philadelphia has been appointed Private Secretary to His Excellency, Governor Geary, vice J. R Dunglison, resigned.

In some parts of Pennsylvania a feeling has grown up favorable to changing the measure of compensation of all county officers from fees to fixed salaries.

Col. Parker, familiarly known as "Grant's Ingin," married the beautiful Miss Sackett in Washington, on Monday week last.

The Democracy have brought out their first man as a candidate for Auditor General in 1868—Charles F. Boyle who, if nominated, may be regarded as a victim for sacrifice.

Charles Lobdell, associate editor of the La Crosse Democrat, who was burned to death by the Angola disaster, was on his way to Connecticut to get married.

During 1867, from January 1st until Christmas day, 236,065 emmigrants arrived at New York, as compared with 227,143 during the same period of last year.

A man named Parish, proprietor of the Armstrong hotel, in Romney, W. Va., killed one Charles Harmison, by stabbing him. The affray occurred on Christmas and was ths culmination of a quarrel.

John M'Cargo, City Controller of Pittsburg, died at his residence on Thursday morning of consumption. Mr. M'C. had held his office for several successful terms, and was re-elected at the last election. He was only forty-one years of age.

The steamboat Harry Dean exploded a boiler and burned to the water's edge, near Gallipolis, on the Ohio, January 4th, inst. Three hands were burned to death, several were injured severely and a number are yet missing. The cargo of oil, salt, potatoes, etc., is a total loss.

Late dispatches from Harrisburg, announce the nomination in caucus of Elisha W. Davis, for Speaker. The friends of McCamant have given up the contest. Gen. Irwin, of Beaver, is said to stand the best chances for the nomination of State Treasurer.

Chief Justice Stough, of New Mexico, was shot by Capt. Rynerson, a member of the territorial Senate, on the 15th ult. The affair grew out of some strictures passed upon the Judge in the Senate. Judge Stough died three days after being shot.

It being dull this year, a St. Louis firm commenced advertising as a last resort, and devoted ten thousand dollars to the purpose. Result, a business of over one million of dollars—larger than they ever transacted before. Let our business men take the hint.

In connection with the various places mentioned for the meeting of the Democratic National Convention, somebody has suggested that Libby Warehouse, in Richmond, or the site of the old prison-pen at Andersonville be designated for the purpose.

The soldiers of Pennsylvania, of all terms of service, including the "Boys in Blue" organization, will hold a State Convention in Philadelphia to-day, which promises to be an imposing affair. Among other important matters, the Convention will declare unanimously for Grant for President.

Remarkable Phenomena.

A letter from Niagara Falls, gives the following description of the remarkable phenomena of low water at the Falls and elsewhere: "Thursday last was a wonderful day in the annals of the Niagara Falls. The strong easterly gale sent the water of Lake Erie westward, leaving the Niagara river and its tributaries lower than were ever known before. Buffalo creek was so low that all the vessels in it were grounded, and Niagara Falls was a rivulet compared with its native grandeur. The bed of the American branch was so denuded that you could travel in its rocky bed without wetting your feet, and mysteries that were never before revealed came to light on that day. Rocks that were heretofore invisible appeared in their full-grown deformity upon the surface, and great was the consternation among the finny tribes. The Three Sisters were accessible to foot pasengers, and many traversed where human foot had never trod, with perfect impunity and dry feet. Below the Falls was the wonder of wonders. The water was full twenty feet lower than usual, and the oldest inhabitant gazed in wonder at the grand transformation. Near Suspension bridge the celebrated rock at Witmer's mill, upon which a drowning man caught and was rescued several years ago, which barely projects its head above the water, was laid bare twenty feet above the surface."

An Alabama letter says: The Convention passed an ordinance staying executions, but Gen. Pope will not or has not issued an order making it effective, and the officials are every-where busy levying upon property and boasting that the United States authority has no power over them or over anything they please to do. Many of these executions are for debts for Confederate money, for hire of slaves set free by the operation of war, and for fourth-coming bonds for slaves, whom it was of course impossible to produce. The whole State is bankrupt by the action of Alabama judges in enforcing such obligations, and the intended operation of the Stay law, to prevent persecution until such cases could be revised by a newly elected judiciary is not only defeated for the want of an enforcing order from Gen. Pope, but the knowledge that such an ordinance is impending quickens every oppressor into activity, and property is everywhere ruthlessly sacrificed.

Every widow and orphan is impoverished by the action of Probate Judges in allowing executors, administrators, and guardians to come into Court and pay their fiduciary debts with Confederate money—notoriously, in many cases, obtained for this express purpose after it had become worthless. Instances are reported, upon good authority, in which the same batch of worthless trash has done duty over and over again in successive settlements of this character. Convention essayed to put a stop to such settlements by an ordinance, and to authorize such as had been made to reopened; but this ordinance is also inoperative, because rebel judges refuse to recognize its validity, and Gen. Pope neglects to issue an order for its enforcement.

ON THE ALERT.

Mr. Wallace, the efficient Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, has issued the following Circular:

[Circular 1, 1868—Private.]

Democratic State Committee
Rooms. Clearfield, Pa.,
December 10, 1867.

Dear Sir: The spring elections are approaching, and it is of vital importance to us, in the great contest now pending, that we should secure in every locality our just share of the election officers—judges, inspectors, assessors, and constables. I write to call your especial attention to this subject. I need not attempt to demonstrate its importance; all appreciate it. Let me beg thaty ou and your committee will give this subject prompt and earnest attention. Regard it as a business matter and act accordingly. Arouse our friends in every district; show them how powerful this weapon is when effecually used. Use the necessary means to carry every sure and doubtful district for us. Where we are in the minority, place a man of high character, well informed and courageous on the board-as our inspector; in such disiricts, see that our best men are selected. It is a great error to fill such places with weak men.

Lists of doubtful men, and those who voted with us in 1867, for the first time, with their townships and port-offices can be made very useful. Furnish me all of these that you can obtain.

There are a great many aliens ready for naturalization throughout the State; all must be naturalized. Your labors and mine must be lessened, if you will obtain their names and residences at an early day, and give me the total number in your county, with the probable cost of naturalizing them.

In arranging for your spring elections, you can obtain this information with comparative ease.

If you have not already furnished me with the names and post-office address of two active Democrats in each election district in your county, I will be obliged if you will do so.

Very respectfully yours,
William A. Wallace,
Chairman.

The Pittsburg Gazette remarks: This looks like work. In the absence of any thing of the sort from the Republican State Committee, we commend this document to the consideration of all men who vote with us. It is always well to learn from an opponent when he is capable of teaching that which it is of consequence to know.

THEY MUST GO.

Says the Harrisburg Telegraph, it is now very clearly established as the policy of President Johnson, that every Commanding General, South who faithfully administers she reconstruction law of Congress must go and give place to some pliant tool of the Executive. It is the evident purpose of the President that reconstruction shall, if possible be defeated. He does not want it—neither do his most intimate political friends, the Democrats, intend to have it—if they can make an instrument of him to prevent it. Whether it is possible to accomplish this by suspending General Ord with General McDowell, and Pope with General Meade, and the dismissal of General Swayne from the Bureau of Refugees, remains to be seen. The effect may be to embarrass and impede reconstruction but we do not believe it in the power of Johnson to defeat it. The work will go forward to perfection and the President and his Democratic advisors will have the chagrin and mortification of witnessing its accomplishment in spite of their hostile efforts. The Democrats do not want the Government reconstructed except upon the basis of rebel ascendency, any more than they wanted the the rebels defeated in their effort to destroy the Government. Their sympathies are in the same direction now as then Important to Executors, Administrators, Trustees, &c.

In a circular addressed to the U. S. Assessors, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue says: "Pains should be taken to acquaint Executors, administrators, trustees, &c., of their personal liability for legal taxes, and that it is not only their legal duty, but for their own private interest and protection, to pay legacy taxes and the succession taxes under section 138, upon each sum before it is paid over to the legatee, distributee or successor. All persons should be informed that a succession tax is a first charge on the interest of the successor, and of all persons claiming in his right in all the real estate in respect whereof such duty is assessed, and that such estate is liable to seizure and sale, even in the hands of a bona fide purchaser."

Santa Anna Again.

Some time ago, everybody thought old Santa Anna was effectually "played out," but there seems to be life in the old chap yet. Intelligence reaches us that a new insurrection in favor of Santa Anna has broken out in Yucatan which appears to be supported by many former officers of the old Empire. It seems almost incredible that the ex-Dictator, who but a few weeks ago, barely escaped with his life, should once more disturb the peace of his native country. There is, we believe, not the least chance of the success of the movement; and if the old General is caught alive on Mexican territory, he will probably not be let off as easily as the last time. Santa Anna himself, however, denies that he is going to Mexico.

The lowest price for gold for 1867 was 132, January 3d, and the highest 146⅜, September 12th, a range of only 14¼ per cent., and the smallest since suspension. Even in 1862, the first year gold became an article of merchandise, it fluctuated 37¾ per cent. In 1864 the range was 133¾ per cent. (151¾ 285), and in 1865 the range reached 106¼ per cent., but that was a downward grade from 234½ in January to 128½ in May, and up again to 140 in November.

A Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that when General Meade heard that the President contemplated putting him in Pope's place, he sent word to the President begging him to abandon the purpose, and stating that he was an awful Radical—more Radical than any of them.

THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL FOR

1868.

DAILY AND WEEKLY,

A PAPER FOR THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY AND HOUSEHOLD.

PRESIDENTIAL YEAR---NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

It is unnecessary to occupy time or space in setting forth the character of the "Commercial." Its standing as the leading newspaper in Pennsylvania—although the most recently established of the first class papers of the country—is already assured. At no time an experiment, it has steadily grown in circulation, strength and patronage, until it has become recognized everywhere not only as the leading journal in this State, but the favorite with the reading public in a large part of Ohio, West Virginia and even beyond their borders. It employs the telegraph on a scale equalled only by the great papers of the larger cities. As a COMMERCIAL PAPER it has a recognized standing at home and abroad, and is read by the most intelligent of all classes, among whom it exerts an influence second to no other in the State. Its MARKET REPORTS are carefully prepared by competent reporters, and we employ every means to insure completeness and reliability.

Republican in politics, the "Commercial," does not scruple to be independent and criticise freely the leading men of the party. Adhering firmly to the fundamental principles of that party, it believes success is most surely achieved by freely discussing propositions and measures, with the view of assisting the reader to arrive at correct conclusions.

Entering, as we now are, on the Presidential year, a preference for Gen. Grant for the Presidency has already been expressed. In this respect the "Commercial" was one of the first to take a decided stand; and it has the satisfaction of having already seen its favorite the accepted of the great majority of the Republican party.

In State affairs the "Commercial" is the unflinching advocate of a FREE RAILROAD LAW and a liberal system of improvements for the development of the vast resources of our State, whereby she will be enriched and the welfare of her citizens advanced.

Our aim from the first has been to make the "Commercial" second to none as a general newspaper. We leave nothing untried to accomplish this object. So well have we redeemed our promises, that we deem it useless to make new ones in this or any other particular.

Special Notices.

☞ Address to the Nervous and Debilitated whose sufferings have been protected from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or fleeky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eyes as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual exercises, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, which in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful, business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they dont become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affection, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of the organs require the use of a diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, established upwards of 18 years, prepared by
H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist,
594 Broadway, New York, and
104 South 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

LEAP YEAR.—The first day of January, which, it is probable, all well-informed folks are aware, began leap year. During that year the ladies claim the privilege of "popping the question" to bashful swains, who, though they are generally dying to do it, always get a fit of what is commonly called the "Buck Ague" about that time. We don't speak from experience in this matter, for we have never "been there," but get our knowledge direct from those who have. Waynesburg, like all other cities and towns of its size and pretensions, contains its share of ambitions and well to do youths, who are anxious to pay the board and buy the clothes for some young lady "as long as they both shall live;" anxious to feed a gal in order that she may sit at the head of his table and sew his shirt buttons on, and it is to be expected that there are young ladies in this place who are just as anxious to fill such situations. We hope these gentle damsels will not neglect the opportunity thus afforded them. Remember it only comes like a Presidential election, once in four years.

THE way to avoid many of the thousand ills the human family is heir to, is to drop into M C & H. Bell's, Sayer's corner, and get yourself a pair of their nice, cheap and durable water-proof Boots or Shoes, and keep your feet dry this sloppy weather. If you think you can't afford a new pair, get a pair of gums and put over the the old ones.

PHREN. JOUR.—The number of this excellent journal for January contains much of interest to everyone. Fowler & Wells, Pubs., New York.

LIGHT AT LAST.—Frank. McGurgan, can supply his many customers with the best Dry Goods, etc., not having permitted his stock to run down.

THE INSTITUTE.—The first Annual Teacher's Institute held in this County under the requirements of the law, convened here on the 31st ult., and continued in session days and evenings until Saturday noon last. A large number of teachers were present from all parts of the county and not a few from adjoining counties. Among these were S. S. Jack, State lecturer, Prof. J. C. Gilchrist, Superintendent of Washington County, C. W. Wance, Superintendent of Fayette County, and others who contributed immeasurably to the interest and enjoyment of the occasion. Office duties prohibited the pleasure we should have experienced in being present throughout the entire proceedings, merely being granted the privelege of attending two nights. And if the exercises of these two evenings may be cited as criterions the Institute could be justly characterized a "feast of reason and flow of soul." The College Chapel was full to repletion, notwithstanding the inclement weather and the muddy condition of streets and sidewalks. Exercises in music, reading, recitation, practical remarks and a lecture made up the programme. A happy spirit prevailed and everything passed off with marked good humor and relish. A feature not the least enjoyable was the soiree given the guests of the Institute in the Literary Societies' halls, on Thursday evening after the regular proceedings in the chapel. With promenade and chit chat two or three hours whiled pleasantly away. But an inadequate idea of the 'doings' of the Institute is all we can give, the full report, we trust, will be handed us in time for next week's issue. We have a word to say in commendation of the worthy efforts of our county Superintendent, Mr. T. J. Teal. Although several able men whom he assured the public would be present, failed to appear, yet the array of talent presented was creditable in the extreme and the gentleman whose services were so kindly proffered, and rendered, won hosts of friends among the citizens of our place and county. Mr. Teal has a heart in the work and will return principal and interest for every cent expended.

FIRE AT CLARKSVILLE.—We learn from the Washington Review, that about half past three on the morning of the 25th ultimo, the wagon maker shop of Michael Arnold, in Clarksville, this county, was discovered to be on fire. The fire had made such headway, that not even his books, or a new wagon in the building could be saved. The flames spread to the dwelling of Mr. A., and there was barely time to remove furniture, &c., before it was also burned. Mr. Arnold's loss is not less than $1,800, upon which there is no insurance. This is a severe loss upon an industrious and deserving mechanic, and we are glad to be able to state that Mr. Arnold is already prepared to carry on his business in all its departments. This manly energy should secure a liberal patronage.

MUD is the staple product of our streets. It is a fine, ueterogenous conglomeration, cultivated by the Town Council and not restricted by side walks from attaining luxurious growth. We have none for export, the home demand exhausting the supply.

ANOTHER GRETNA GREEN.—Esquire Mayes, of West Alexander, Washington Co., Pa., since his election to office in May, 1862, has married 340 couples. The father of the worthy Justice, during a period of 56 years as a Justice of the Peace in the same village, married 930 couple. The Washington Reporter asks, is not West Alexander our Gretna Green? And Esquire Mayes a second Paisley!

APPOINTED.—Mr. Ayers L. Myers, of this place has received, the appointment of Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, for this county, vice Dr. Z. A. White dec'd. The gentleman has entered upon the duties of the office. Possessing the ability, we doubt not, he will fill it satisfactorily for all parties.

AFFECTIONATE.—The inclination of the boxes around the shade trees, on the Square, to recline upon the bosom of Mother Earth.

THE Plan of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the Riverside Institute for Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans, is one that has been laid out in strict accordance with the terms of the charter as as granted for this purpose by the Legislature of Pennsylvania. This charter of the Washington Library Company legalizes the very acts that its members are performing for this noble object. The plan, as most of our readers are aware, consists in selling stock at $1 per share, each share or shares being accompanied by a handsome fine steel-plate engraving, worth fifty per cent. more than is actually paid for the stock. Besides this, every share of stock secures one present in the great distribution of presents to shareholders. Of these presents the aggregate value is $300,000, one of hem being worth the enormous sum of $40,000, and another $20,000, another $10,000, and one worth $5,000, and two worth $2,500 each, several worth $1,000 each, and so on. This is simply the plan in brief as adopted and presented to the public. Every ashreholder will obtain some present in the great distribution, besides the beautiful engraving at the time of purchase, and each one has an equal chance of getting a small fortune.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—For January this journal is unusually interesting. It contains useful knowledge on many subjects. Letters of Travel in Europe by Bayard Taylor. Parton's "Pittsburg," a picturesque delineation in words of the wonders and sights in and around the Iron city. The last article is worth ten times the price of the Magazine. Ticknor & Fields, Pubs., Boston.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A new Post office has been created in Gilmore Tp., this county, called "Tom's Run," and Jacob Lough, Esq., appointed Post Master.

THE Jury Commissioners met on Monday last to select Jurymen for the coming year.

WHY can we not have the street lamps lighted these dark nights? Why?

SIX PS.—Poets—Painters—Preachers—Players—Printers and Politicians—all suffer from Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaints, and all diseases which they may cure or prevent by the use of Plantation Bitters. If those sufferers took these Bitters, the Poetry would be purer, the Paintings grander, the Sermons livelier, the Acting truer, the Printing neater, and the Politics honester. This splendid tonic invigorates the system, and enables the brain to work healthily.

Perhaps no article was ever so well endorsed by all who have used it.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet article—superior to Cologne and at half the price

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On the 19th ult., Mr. Hugh Hamilton, of Springhill tp., this county, was killed on the road near Coon's schoolhouse, Wayne tp. Mr Hamilton, as we are informed, in company with his son, both deeply intoxicated, were driving a two-horse wagon and at the place mentioned, run off the road, the fall fatally injuring the father and severely wounding the son. He leaves a large family. The circumstance is a deplorable one and a sad commentary upon the evil of Intemperance.

NICE.—That New Years gift of a half bushel of apples. "All hands" at the Republican return thanks.

THE pike (so-called) is in a horrible condition in places East of town. Toll should cease to be collected until repairs are made.

Married.

NOTICES of Marriages and Deaths inserted free but all Tributes of Respect and Obituaries charged eight cents a line. The money must be advanced to secure their insertion.

JORDAN—STOY—On the 25, ult., by Rev. Dr. Sloan, Mr. Jno. J. Jordan, of Washington, Pa., and Miss Kate E. Stoy, of this place.

All ☞ are extended the happy pair in acknowledgment of the splendid cake sent us.

McDONALD—ROSEBERRY—Dec. 15, by Jas. Call, Esq., Mr. Henry McDonald and Miss Sarah Roseberry, both of Jackson tp., of this county.

STEWART—SHAW—Dec. 22nd, inst., by the same, Mr. Andrew Stewart, and Miss Elizabeth Shaw, both of Centre tp., this co.

MOREDOCK—RANDOLPH—By Rev. J. S. Gibson, Dec. 17th, 1867, Mr. George Moredock, to Miss Emily A. Randolph, both of Greene County, Pa.

Died.

MOSS—December 18th., 1867, of Typhoid fever, Mrs. Elsanor Moss, wife of Jennings J. Moss, of Aleppo tp., Greene co., Pa., in the fifty-eighth year of her age.

OATS—Steady at 57½@58c.
BEEF CATTLE—Firm and 10@15c higher at $5 35@6 50 for light to good shipping.

Organization of the Legislature.

The great atruggle, says the State Guard, will be for the officers of the House. The Senate is considered organized, at least so far as Speaker and Chief-Clerk are concerned. Hon. James L. Graham, of Allegheny, was elected Speaker at the end of the last session, and George W. Hamersly will be re-elected Chief Clerk at the opening of the coming session. For Assistant Clerk, Sergeant-at-arms, Door-keeper, Messengers, &c., Senators will probably each have their candidates, and in the caucas fix on their fate; though we hear no opposition to the gentlemen now incumbents of these positions.

The contest for the organization of the House commenced immediately after the October election. Two prominent candidates for Speaker at once appeared, E. W. Davis, of Philadelphia, and Samuel McCamant, of Blair county. Mr. Davis was Speaker of the House in 1861, he then being a Representative from Venango county. There is no question about his ability nor is there any doubt of his steadiness as a Republican. Mr. McCamant, of Blair county, was a member of the last House, and is also a man of strength, ability, and experience. The opposing candidates for Speaker are both honorabte men, and of themselves have conducted the contest thus far with manly fairness. The same may be said of the supporters of those gentlemen who will have votes at the election.

There are three candidates for Clerk of the House: Gen. A. L. Russell, of Allegheny, Gen. Seifridge, of Lehigh, and Gen. Stumbaugh, of Franklin co. Gen. Russell was at one time Assistant Clerk of the House, Secretary of the Commonwealth when Johnson was Governor, and during five of Curtises' six years as Governor, was Adjutant General. He is a man of decided ability and worth. Gen. Selfridge served in the war with distinction. His record as a soldier is as fair as that of any man who won a like grade in the volunteer Union army; and as a gentleman of ability and integrity, stands second to no citizen of this commonwealth. General Stumbaugh also served a snort perod in the army, and was a member of the House during the seasons of 1866-67. It is of course useless to conjecture which of these gentlemen will be the successful candidate. King caucus will decide that.

Eruption of Vesuvius.

Dispatches from Naples, of Dec. 24th state that the eruption of Mount Vesuvius was continually increasing in power and splendor. Immense sheets of white, yellow and crimson flames arise hundreds of feet above the crater and at night the Bay of Naples was lighted up for miles. Lava was pouring down the mountain side in immense quantities, and large stones were occasionally thrown from out of the mouth of the volcano. A deep rumble like reverberating thunder was heard from time to time, as in the bowels of the earth, and many of the people in the vicinity have left their homes, fearing an earthquake, or other calamity. No such eruption has probably occured in Vesuvius for centuries, and the spectacle is regarded as one of the most magnificent and sublime ever witnessed in nature.

HENRY WARD BEECHER has given $1,000 to General Lee's College in Virginia, and the Tribune commends the act and advises others to follow the example—Ex

It would seem from the above that we have no soldiers widows and orphans in the North.

THE Hon. Cornelius Hamilton, Representative in Congress from the Delaware District, Ohio, was killed at his home in Marysville, Union county, on Sunday morning week, by an insane son. Mr. Hamilton was elected to the Fortieth Congress as the successor of Hon. James R. Hubbell. He was one of the most wealthy and influential men in the county in which he lived, for his deep interest in all benevolent enterprises, and his kindness toward the poor of his neighborhood. Politically he was a very thorough Radical a man of strong convictions, and firm in his adherence thereto.

THE insurections in Ireland and England still continue and are the occasion of great uneasiness, public and private. The London Times says that no less than 30,000 special constables have been sworn in and are now serving in London.

Extensive agitation prevails in Italy and threatens the existing government.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE:

That on the 5th day of December, A. D., 1867, a Warrant in Bankruptcy was issued against the Estate of NATHAN ZIMMERMAN, of Cumberland township, in the County of Greene and State of Pennsylvania, who has been adjudged a Bankrupt on his own petition; that the payment of any debts and the delivery of any property belonging to such Bankrupt, to him, or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by Law; that a meeting of the Creditors of the said Bankrupt, to prove their Debts, and to choose one or more Assignees of his Estate, will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be holden at the Court House, in Waynesburg, Greene county, Pennsylvania, before Joseph B. Donley, Register, on the 30th day of January, A. D., 1868, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotten Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest Improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nansook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 200 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It has a perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "puckering," and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a welt in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Tucking, &c., are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

Careful instructions given at the house of the purchaser.

Money refunded if the machines are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.

MEDICAL.

DR. WHITTLESY.

DR. F. WHITTLESY, Physician for Chronic Diseases, has a permanent office in Washington, Pennsylvania, where he has been engaged for the past twelve years in the successful treatment of all DISEASES OF A CHRONIC NATURE.

The Doctor might present a volume of certificates of cures, complimentary notices, &c., but the most satisfactory testimonial will be given the public in a trial of his skill. Dr. W. devotes exclusive attention to Chronic Ailments, in which his practice has been uniformly successful, effecting cures in many cases that have baffled all other systems of treatment.

Paralysis, Rheumatism, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness, Diseases of the Spine, Stomach, Heart, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Lungs, Female Diseases, General Debility, &c., &c.,

Are all promptly and permanently cured by the Doctor's system of treatment. During the past few years, the Doctor has registered hundreds of cures to which he will be pleased to give those references who may call upon him. He invites all afflicted with any form of Chronic disease and having failed to obtain relief, to

GIVE HIS MEDICINES A TRIAL.

His principal agents are selected entirely from the Vegetable Kingdom, and these are so combined as to equalize the vital forces of the body and thereby restore it to perfect health. The Doctor has been especially successful in the treatment of all

FEMALE DISEASES.

Women by the score fall victims to maladies peculiar to their sex, many of whom might be saved from lives of wretchedness and premature graves by applying in time to Dr. W. The remedies employed in the practice of Dr. W. are manufactured exclusively by him from his own Medical Laboratory and are always pure in quality and specific in effect. Dr. W. diagnoses disease by means of the Urine, the only infallible test of disease, never failing to discover its nature, locality and curability, thus enabling him to employ a

RATIONAL, SCIENTIFIC AND CURATIVE TREATMENT.

Of the absolute certainty of his mode of diagnosis he can satisfy every patient who gives him a trial, from the urine alone he will tell accurately all that can be known of any disease. In the examination of this secretion, he employs optical, chemical and microscopical tests, no case being presented in which one of these tests is not sufficient to an accurate diagnoses. The Doctor does not claim to be a "cure all," nor yet "the right arm of the Almighty stretched forth to save the world from premature dissolution," but he does profess from scientific acquirements and

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE,

Devoted exclusively to the treatment of chronic ills, with his infallible tests of disease, to be able to relieve and permanently cure all those cases which are not already beyond the reach of remedies.

Miscellaneous.

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1868.

PROSPECTUS.

The year 1868 will long be remembered for its settlement of the boundary question between Aristocracy of Color and Impartial Human Liberty. The War of the Rebellion being closed, we have now to decide whether the fundamental idea which impelled and justified the Rebellion shall dominate over our whole country, molding her institutions and shaping her destiny. If it be true that God has not created all men, but only all White men, in His own image, and made them equal in political and civil rights, then it is a world-wide calamity that Grant did not surrender to Lee at Appomattox; and "The Lost Cause," trodden into mire under the hoofs of Sheridan's rough-riding cavalry, not only should but will be regarded in Constitutional Conventions and at the ballot-boxes, as the Black race, because they ARE Black, should be excluded from the jury-box and repelled from the ballot-box, then Stonewall Jackson ought to head the roll of American martyrs, emblazoned high above the names of Warren and Mercer and Pulaski; of Ellsworth, Lyon, Baker, Reynolds, Wadsworth, Kearney, Sedgwick, and McPherson.

It is difficult to argue with a blind, besotted prejudice, grounded in ignorance and fortified by self-conceit. Devoid of reason, it is hardly amenable to reason. But millions who would listen unmoved to appeals based on Justice and Humanity can be stirred by facts which affect their own interest and safety. The naked truth that every Southern State reconstructed on the White basis is to-day a Rebel State—shaped and ruled by men who execrated Lincoln's reluctant and tardy resistance to the Rebellion as a causeless and criminal aggression, and profoundly rejoiced over Bull Run as their victory—will prove invincible, if we can but bring it home to the apprehension of every loyal voter. There is no paramount question of good faith or gratitude to the Blacks. Their votes are as necessary to the preponderance of White loyalty as to their own protection and security. Reconstruct the South on the White basis, and every one of the fifteen States which held slaves in 1860 will be intensely, overwhelmingly Copperhead thenceforth and evermore. Allow to-day the plea that the Blacks are ignorant and degraded, and those whom you thereby clothe with power will take good care that the plea shall be as valid and well-grounded a century hence as it now is. Public Education and Civil Rights for the Freedmen can only be achieved and maintained through the ballot. "We are for Negro Suffrage—BIZ WAY THEY SUFFERED IN NEW ORLEANS," was the inscription on a banner borne in a late Conservative or Democratic procession in Baltimore; and the spirit which dictated that avowal is still rampant in the South. But for what is stigmatized as Military Despotism, it would daily avenge by outrage and infliction what it deems negro treachery to the Southern cause.

THE TRIBUNE has declined to be lured or turned aside from the Main Question. It has persistently refused to swell the clamor for vengeance on the defeated Rebels, whether by execution or by confiscation; and one of its strong reasons for this course is a conviction that no drop of rebel blood could be coolly, deliberately shed without essentially clouding the prospect of securing the Right of Suffrage to the Blacks. Defying the madness of passion and the blindness of short-sighted misconception, it has demanded Reconstruction on the basis of Universal Amnesty with Impartial Suffrage, in perfect consciousness of the fact that it thereby alienated thousands who had been its zealous supporters and life-long patrons. The hour of its complete vindication cannot be far distant.

As for the man who is to be the chosen standard-bearer of the Republican host in the impending contest, while we avow our deliberate preference of Chief Justice Chase as the ablest and most eminent of our living statesmen, THE TRIBUNE will render a hearty, cheerful, determined support on a platform which affirms and upholds the equal political as well as civil rights of all citizens of the Republic. We do not contemplate as possible the support by Republicans of any candidate who does not stand on this platform. And we do not apprehend that the candidates who, in our approaching struggle, shall represent genuine Democracy in opposition to the meanest phase of Aristocracy can be beaten if proper means be systemagically taken, as they must and will be, to enlighten and arouse the American party.

We will thank such friends as believe that THE TRIBUNE will prove an efficient and cheap why to influence the undecided, to aid us in extending its circulation. Though ours is eminently a political journal, but a small portion of its space is devoted to politics, while an outlay of more than $200,000 per annum is incurred in collecting and transmitting news from all parts of the world. We have regular correspondents to all points where important events may at any time be transpiring or imminent. The progress of the war in Crete, which is the precursor of a still greater war, has been watched by one of these special correspondents, while another telegraphs from Constantinople each novel phase of the critical diplomatic situation. Every step of Garibaldi's recent heroic though unfortunate enterprise, from its inception to its close, was noted by our Correspondents, who are also his most trusted advisers; while an esteemed member of our editorial staff has just accompanied the Embassador of Juarez to Mexico to scan the Mexican problem closely and under auspices more favorable to the Republican chief than those which have colored the advices of our regular correspondents at Vera Cruz, and the Capital. Another correspondent accompanied the first National expedition to Alaska, Wallrussia, or whatever our splinter of the North Pole may be called, and is now reported on the aspects and capabilities of that chilly region. Bayard Taylor is writing us in his own vein from Central Europe; while able correspondents report to us from Colorado, Idaho, Montana, &c., more copiously than we can find room to publish. Our Reviews of Books and Library Department are in charge of one of the ripest American scholars; while Agriculture, under a competent editor, claims a leading place in our Semi-Weekly and Weekly issues. In short, we have for years spent a large portion of the income of our business in efforts to render THE TRIBUNE a better and better newspaper; and if we have not succeeded, the fault is not explained by a lack of means or of efforts, whether on our own part or on that of a generous and discerning public.

THE TRIBUNE is sent by mail daily (Sundays excepted,) for $10, Semi-Weekly for $4, and Weekly for $2 per annum, payable inflexibly in advance. To clubs for the Semi-Weekly we send two copies one year for $7; five copies, or over, for each copy $3. On receipt of $45 for fifteen copies we will send an extra copy one year; for $100 we will send thirty-four copies and THE DAILY TRIBUNE. We send the Weekly to Clubs of five for $9; ten copies or over, addressed to names of subscribers, each, $1 70; twenty copies, addressed to names of subscribers, $31; ten copies, to one address, $16; twenty copies, to one address, $30. An extra copy will be sent for each club of ten.

A large and fine steel engraved portrait of the Editor is sent free of charge to any one who, in sending $10 for a Daily, $4 for a Semi-Weekly, or $2 for a Weekly, shall indicate a desire to receive it. One will likewise be sent to any person who forwards a club of ten or more Semi-Weeklies or twenty or more Weeklies, at our club rates, and asks for portrait at the time of remitting. FOUL PLAY.—During the cross-examination of a false witness at the Tombs the other day, the District Attorney asked him where his father was; to which the witness responded with a melancholy air: "Dead, sir; dropped off very suddenly, sir." "How came he to drop off suddenly?" was the next question. "Foul play, sir. The Sheriff imposed upon his unsuspicious nature, sir, and, getting him to go on a platform to take a look at a select audience, suddenly knocked a trap door from under him, sir."

Trouble in Britain.

Daily European dispatches inform us that Fenians are in extraordinary activity all over Great Britain, and the country remains excited by hourly telegrams reporting their movements. Friday night a party of men, disguised stormed the Government tower at Cork Ireland, routed the guard and carried away the arms and ammunition. A Fenian cruiser is said to have been chased by the British war vessels off Cork. A man has been arrested in London who, it is alleged, fired the fuse on the occasion of the Clarkenwell explosion.

GEN. CANBY has issued the order for the Reconstruction Convention of South Carolina. The official majority for the Convention was a little over 8,000.

HERE'S something to make you laugh and cry too—the brag story of a fireman; One of the "Big Sixes" men had rushed into a burning building to rescue a child. The flames had cut off his egress, and drove him to the fourth story. All means of escape appeared to be gone; he opened one of the windows and called out: "I say, Jackey, jus you bring the old squirt down to the kerb, put on a three-inch nozzle and let her come!" Jackey he put on the nozzle, the boys manned the brakes up comes a stream as big as a bolony and as stiff as a poker. I just wrapped the little 'un in the old coat, put my legs and arms tight around the stream, and slid down to the pavement without hurtin' me or the child! If you don't believe it, you can just come down to the house and see the baby!"

REMOVAL OF UNION GENERALS.

General Grant has issued an order by direction of the President, relieving Major Generals E. O. C. Ord and John Pope of their respective commands in the Third and Fourth Military Districts. Ord will proceed to California, where he will relieve General McDowell, who will in turn take command of the Fourth District. Pope will report to headquarters at Washington without delay, General Meade being assigned to the command in his stead. General Wager Swayne is relieved from duty in the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama and ordered to his regiment.

THE MAINE Farmer is facetious on the bonnet question. It recommends country ladies to take a medium sized pumpkin seed, carefully cut out the meat on the under side put a narrow strip of fur around the edge, and fasten the strings to the sides, and they will have a bonnet in the pink fashion. The broad end of the bonnet, it adds, should be worn in front, to keep off the sun and wind.

ZECCHEUS GREELEY, father of the editor of the Tribune, died at Wayne, Erie county New York, on Wednesday, the 18th inst., aged 86 years.

It is proposed that the Legislature of our State pass a law dispensing with the present fee system, and give fixed salaries to all county officers.

DENTISTRY.

I have located in Waynesburg, and am occupying the late residence of Dr. S. S. Patton. Having taken great pains to become thoroughly acquainted with both the theory and practice of Dentistry, and having had an experience of seven years in the profession, I feel warranted in saying that my patients shall have no cause to complain of inferior operations. Extraction will be rendered painless, when desired, by the administration of "Laughing gas" or other anesthetics. Charges moderate, and all operations warranted as represented. I will be at home WITHOUT FEE ADVENTURE from the fifteenth to the thirtieth of every month. JOS. S. HERTIG.

Agents Wanted.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED—

TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR A NEW ILLUSTRATED

BIBLE DICTIONARY.

(COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME.)

This DICTIONARY embodies the result of the most recent study, research and investigation, of about sixty-five of the most eminent and advanced Biblical Scholars now living. Clergymen of all denominations approve it, and regard it as the best work of its kind in the English language, and one which ought to be in the hands of every Bible reader in the land.

In circulating this work, agents will find a pleasant and profitable employment. The numerous objections which are usually encountered in selling ordinary works will not exist with this.

But on the contrary, encouragement and friendly aid will attend the Agent, making his labors agreeable, useful, and lucrative.

Ladies, retired Clergymen, School Teachers, Farmers, Students, and all others who possess energy, are wanted to assist in Canvassing every town and county in the country, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered.

For particulars, apply to, or address,

ENERGETIC MEN AND LADIES WANTED TO CANVASS FOR THE

ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE

BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

BY PROF. CALVIN E. STOWE, D. D.

Showing what the Bible is not; what it is, and how to use it; tracing the history of each book up to its origin with the inspired authors, and completely answering all Infidel cavils and objections to the Scriptures. It is an ordinary library of Biblical History in a single volume, brief, clear, accurate, conclusive and highly interesting. A master-piece of common sense. It is needed in every family where the Bible is read, as well as by every Sabbath School teacher, student and clergymen, and being the only book on the subject ever published or sold in this country, agents can easily see the advantage of canvassing for this work. Send for circulars containing notices and indorsements from leading ministers of all denominations. Address,

THE WONDER OF THE AGE!

TIME, MONEY AND LABOR SAVED!

THE LATEST & BEST CHURN!

One of the latest Patents, issued on the 11th day of September, 1866, to Wm. R. McCutcheon, of Washington, Iowa, will be on exhibition in a few days at in Waynesburg, Pa. This CHURN must supercede anything of the kind heretofore produced. The simpleness of its construction, and its two-fold or reversed motion, that produces butter from three to six minutes must induce the community to examine its qualities. It saves time—it saves work—and produces as much butter as any churn in existence. Mr. Munnell has full power to sell rights for Pennsylvania or New York State as well as to furnish Churns to citizens of this county.

JOHN MUNNELL'S,
